Designing 21st Century Leadership and Organizational Effectiveness Remodeling Options

Project Charge

The charge is to develop and recommend strategies and tactics to create an ALA with the agility to respond to current challenges and opportunities, and to focus energy and resources on its mission and members in the decades to come. Ultimately, it is to design a modern association for a modern profession.

Areas in scope:

- Executive Board
- Council

Project Guiding Principles

The following principles will guide our decision-making during the project.
(created September 2018)

The project will:

- Be transparent
- Look to the future
- Define critical words
- Focus on members and the field
- Be mission driven
- Reflect core values (equity, diversity, inclusion)
- Have no boundaries, set no limits
- Encourage open debate and vigorous discussion
- Move at consistent pace that builds progress
- Contain regular assessments of progress and engagement
- Be effectively documented with opportunities to review
- Oblige participants to bring their perspective, not advocate for a group or defend a territory

The project will not:

- Hold on to the past
- Be top down
- Be combative
- Seek to reinforce existing structures and relationships

Research Input

Over 30 qualitative research telephone interviews were conducted specifically for this project. Each telephone interview lasted approximately 30 minutes. Representatives from the following stakeholder groups were interviewed. In addition, input was compared to previously gathered material and summaries of past meetings. This summary provided essential context for the remodeling summit discussions.

- Chapter leaders
- Division and Round Table leaders
- Ethnic affiliates
- New members / Spectrum scholars
- Staff
- Past Presidents
- Library vendors
- Trustees
- Other leaders in the field

Research Themes – External Observations

Common themes across stakeholders:

- Libraries in all settings continue to transition from book repositories to information and community centers.
- Libraries and librarians will continue to provide a wide array of new and “nontraditional” services.
- Libraries continue to face funding challenges and identity/value challenges.

Research Themes – Internal Observations

Common themes across stakeholders:

- Advocacy on behalf of issues (privacy, access, free speech) is important to librarians and the core of ALA’s strength.
- The organization is too big, too fragmented and needs to focus on the changing demands placed upon all librarians.
- There is competition rather than collaboration.

Interviewee Suggestions

Telephone interviewees were asked for their thoughts on changes or models of the ideal ALA structure to support librarians in the future. The following suggestions from telephone interviewees are in random order.

- Focus on the needs of the industry rather than the needs of the organization.
- Create a future vision for librarians in order to align all organizations to the vision.
- Simplify the structure. It is too bureaucratic.
- The Council is too large, it should be smaller and focus on identifying the current and future needs of librarians in a rapidly changing environment.
- Leadership should agree to work on long-term programs. The President's annual initiatives distract from a consistent direction.
- The current nomination and election process does not foster inclusion. Rethink the leadership structure, nominations, election, etc.
- There is a need to build collaborations with outside, non-librarian groups (teachers, administrators, public leaders, etc.).
- Increase focus on community leadership development and community engagement.

The following observations are from Summit Participants. They helped bridge the external observations with the perspectives of individuals in the session.

ALA Governance - What is working well?

- Provides a voice for the library community
- Creates action
- There are a variety of volunteer opportunities
- Diverse perspectives are sought and have increased value
- Opportunity for public discourse and dialogue
- Opportunity for professional development and learning
- Culture of inclusion
- Opportunity to network with colleagues
- Opportunity to connect and interact with smaller communities within ALA
- Opportunity to contribute to focused projects, content areas, and specialty areas within the library profession

ALA Governance - What is not working well?

- Only works for some
- Not easy to navigate
- Difficult to change
- Moves slowly

Don't like structure, don't like process, but love culture.

What Needs to be Preserved and Enhanced

- Culture of inclusion
- Stronger voice and advocate for the library community
- A greater variety of engagement opportunities
- Opportunities for specialization and customization
- Professional development and high quality learning opportunities
- Opportunity to engage in conversations, hear all perspectives, and negotiate across diverse opinions

ALA Governance – Current State

ALA Governance - Current Attributes

Strengths	Weaknesses
Identifies trends	Confusing
Customizable	Outdated
Variety of options	Traditional
Historical roots	“Lots of backseat drivers”
Ability to connect and engage with like-minded and like-interest colleagues	In group/Out group
Skills building	High cost to participate
Culture	Complex and complicated
Impactful	“Ripe for improvement”

ALA Governance – Ideal Future State

ALA Governance – Ideal Future Attributes

- Agile
- Flexible / Nimble
- Innovative
- Inclusive
- Attractive
- Socially conscious
- Responsive to the community environment
- Customizable to individual experience
- Promotes member engagement and human connection
- Diverse and equitable
- Representative of the complete “library ecosystem”

Observations from the Summit:

Meaningful change that supports a dynamic profession will take time.

It is transition to an “ideal”

High-level Considerations in Creating Options
